This is water:

There are these two young fish swimming along, and they happen to meet an older fish swimming the other way, who nods at them and says, “Morning, boys, how's the water?”

And the two young fish swim on for a bit, and then eventually one of them looks over at the other and goes, “What the hell is water?”

WHY THE YOUNG FISH IS IGNORANT OF THE WATER THAT SURROUNDS IT?

Philosophie' (French) or 'filosofie' (Dutch),falsafa (Arabic).

It is a skill that is necessary in all aspects of our daily life as citizens, professionals and persons.

Philosophy is a human endeavor that has changed the course of history. We are all what we are, in part, because of the ideas of philosophers.

DEFINITIONS OF PHILOSOPHY

- “ Philosophy is the love and pursuit of wisdom”
- “Philosophy is the attempt to think rationally and critically about the most important questions

ALLEGORY OF CABIN

Imagine you live your life from birth with your tribe within a large cabin. This cabin and the land around it provides you with all you need to be content and in some ways happy: warmth and mild entertainment. Beyond the cabin gardens lies an empty wasteland.

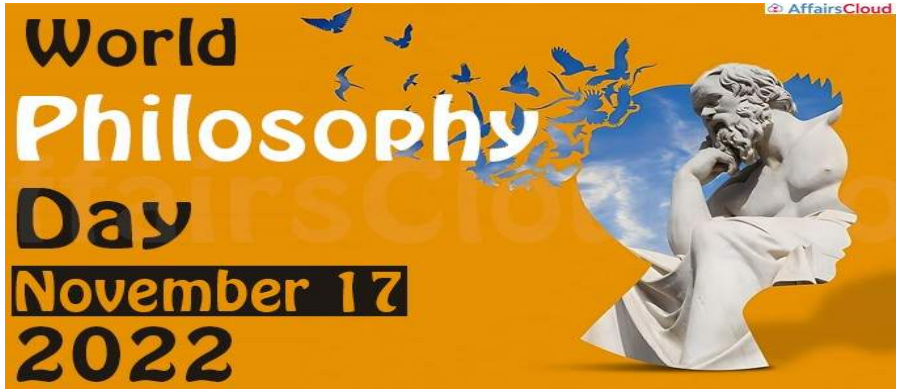

Living in your cabin you would find no reason to leave it or your immediate surroundings, yet a few might through curiosity or some other aspect of the human condition find reason to venture forth into the unknown, despite the surface evidence suggesting that there is no worth in doing so.

It is these few who would by their perseverance breach the wasteland to find that beyond it lies a lush landscape, full of life in all its grandeur, unparalleled by the simplistic stimulation previously available at the cabin. In this analogy, the few who venture out are the philosophers, the thinkers, the ones who question what it is not obvious to question.
